- b. The planter boxes in the cafeteria have been moved to Building 213, allowing additional seating in the South Cafeteria to make way for those formerly seated in the Rendezvous Room in the balcony. The balcony of the South Cafeteria will be made into language labs.
- c. Mr. Johnson reported on a recent conversation with Mr. Melzac, who has discussed with a curator of the National Museum of American Art the possibility that their planned exhibit of paintings by Alma Thomas might subsequently be exhibited at CIA. The suggestion was well received by the NMAA official.
- d. Mr. Johnson reported that he had sent a memo to the Office of Personnel outlining possible exceptions to the recent HN on display of notices in the Headquarters building.

4. New Business

- a. [] has resigned as Chairman of the Exhibit Committee. The Chairman, FAC, thanked her for her work. [] has expressed an interest in heading this committee. After some discussion it was decided to appoint [] as Chairman of the Exhibit Committee.
- b. [] Visual Aids, is working on an exhibit, scheduled for next year, showing the history of CIA with emphasis on the Headquarters building. Included will be information about how the land was used prior to CIA occupancy, the appearance of the site as the building was going up, old photographs, and foreign gifts to Agency employees. [] said that his office had some photos which might be included.
- c. [] memo to the Chairman, FAC, with suggestions on improving the landscaping around Headquarters will be forwarded to OL. [] memo also reported that the Wilderness Trail is still unfinished. This matter will be taken up again with OL.
- d. The Chairman has received a note from the Suggestion Award Committee regarding the proposed paving of the pathway from the southwest entrance to the south loading dock. Lack of resources prevents action and lack of action makes it difficult to justify an award to the person who sent in the suggestion that the pathway be paved. Blocking the path with fences or plants as an alternative was suggested in the note. The FAC will recommend against any barrier across the pathway and once again suggest a certificate of appreciation be given to the suggestor for his concern.

- f. The condition of the courtyard near the north cafeteria was brought up. Due to the lack of water, the landscaping in this area seems to be dying. Several suggestions for this area were made, including a rock garden and a cactus garden.
